Official humor is sometimes a little cryptic, but its quality is sound. A correspondent of "Truth" discovered in "Gazette" of a week ago the announcement of a correction in General Allenby's last dispatch: "Page 9, col. 2, for line substitute by the destroyers Forrester or Druid." :

Feeling curious as to the nature of the blunder which necessitated a correction of the dispatch, I waited three months after the publication of the dispatch. I turned it up and found that instead of saying that infantry had been given valuable assistance by "the destroyers 'Forrester' or 'Druid'" it has actually been made to appear that the assistance had been given by "the destroyers 'Druid' and 'Forrester'."

The wretched culprit is undoubtedly being languishing in the deepest dungeons. Which?

ITCHING BURNING

On Foot. Inflamed, Swollen and Disfigured.
Could Not Walk.

"I scratched my foot with a piece of wire and then it festered up and broke out in a rash. My foot was much inflamed and swollen and itched. The itching and burning were often unbearable and I could not sleep. I could not walk.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the irritation was much less. I used it more and used two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment when I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. W. Purdy, 62 East Pike's Farm, Bridge, N. Canterbury, Kent, Eng.

And Bennett was usually among the first to appear at the rehearsals. There was a good deal about music more than musical folk in "The Lion's Share": let us say you discover in it not a single note! But in his latest novel comes a powerful example of dramatic music, which is followed by a writer in the "Musical Times."

The passage offers yet another illustration of music as a background to the novelist. When they (George and Madeline) go to the hall the band was sending forth a tremendous volume of brilliant and exhilarating sound, and you can hear the strains of brasses. Then came a sudden change of mood—there came a sudden, almost painful crash... What was that? Piece she asked... Was it Glazounov? He could not be certain. It sounded like Strauss... The music seemed to come from a stamping machine, and he heard it as a stamping-machine, and he heard it as "No. 48—Edgar Schreier." Sir Henry Wager Llewellyn was absent from his post.

There is very little popular work was performed without the aid of a soloist.

But in the matter of concerts you may have seen a soloist who has been called generous diversion in many a novel.

cellent series in bowling, his five for 55—although far behind his 6 for 26 at the first event—being the best bowling feature on his side. Hall received the highest score, (31) but it was not until his fine performance on Wednesday against the Ghezeir Palace eleven, when he took the sheet with 63, and also captured five wicket for 55.

Friday's game was again noticeable for the splendid felding of the Australian players, and their comparatively big score of 170 was pretty well distributed four of the batsmen reaching double figures.

Following are the scores and bowling:—

The first match of the Australian Hospital men this season, at Ghezireh, on Saturday resulted in bigger scores all round than in any other game since the season started.

The A.G.H. batsmen were in good form. Although their first pair were a dead failure the others were a big success, McWilliams unbeaten innings of 51, being the best of several.

SULTAN'S CUP (SEMI-FINAL)

I.B.D. (Kantara) v. I.S.I. (ZEITUN).

The above event, which it was hoped would have taken place on Wednesday, had to be postponed on account of the position of affairs in Cairo. Eventually it was brought off on Friday and as was fully expected the un-

(fully entitles them to the first honours in Egypt) were the winners, the result being 2-0.
