UPPER EGYPT UNREST.
MURDER OF MR. SMITH.
MORE INTERESTING EVIDENCE.

Abdel Shehata, ghaffi, deposed that he saw a crowd on the day of the riot and he was made to leave his rifle and take a stick instead. In cross-examination he admitted he saw the Cairo train being broken. He stood by the factory and saw Smith being beaten by the mob. He threw away his stick when he saw this. Witness admitted that he had made a statement previously that Abdel Kareem was present at the death of Smith. He denied that he broke the door of the Smith's carriage or came near the train at all. He saw someone breaking up the workshop and another man looting a shop.

Three of the accused then testified to having been in some place other than the station on the day of the murder. Another passed his time visiting his two wives, one at Ibra and the other at Anfal. He denied being present at the murder, and claimed that certain of the witnesses had a spite against him. He himself had been hit by a bullet when the firing on the river bank took place.

The movement of police at Wasta deposed that he went to the market at 8 a.m. on March 16 and Emin Bey el Ridi went there about ten minutes later. When the mob arrived and the omala of Ibra and Imam Khalil arrived at the head of a demonstration. They were dispersed by Emin Bey el Ridi. He saw Smith's house being looted and when he went up to the line he saw the mob. Although it was written as duty to make arrests and take names, he did neither on the day of the riots.

Salah el-Helwani stated that he saw Mr. Graves, the Commandant of Police, the judge and Emin Bey el Ridi at the market on March 15. Sheikh Ibrahim, omala of Att for the defence deposed that on March 14 he received a telephone summoning him to an omala's meeting the following morning. Whilst he was preparing, two people arrived and told him that there was a riot at Wasta station and the telephone cut. He called out the ghaffirs to protect the railway. No damage was done to that part of the line. The following day he went ghaffirs to protect the man's house at Wasta. A crowd of 400 people came from Wasta to cut the railway. They were armed with sticks, knives and keys for pulling the telegraph. He was not strong enough to arrest any of them.

Ibrahim Hussein Halawati, policeman at Wasta said that the mobmen sent him with Mr. Smith to the foreman's house. Emin Abd el Kader threatened her. He saw Emin Bey Ridi keeping the crowd off the market.

Emin Hassan stated that he went to Att to collect his rents the night before the demonstration. He met the omala of Att with fifty or sixty men. He was told by the omala that if anyone tried to cut the railway he would shoot him. Mohamed Ibrahim Khalil a shopkeeper said that the crowd broke into his shop and looted it; they were hit by nabobs. The commandant of police arrived and some of the thieves were arrested.

Various others made depositions to the effect they were about the riot. Others did not know of the riots until the next day. Another did not remember who he had seen on the fatal day. The case is proceeding.

A wireless telephone message has been received in New Brunswick (N.J.) is a closed concrete and steel vault, underground. The experimenter, Mr. W. Harold Warren, with a witness, carried a portable set into the vault, whose doors were closed and he then heard the talk of the New Brunswick radio station.
