THE NATIVE PRESS.

AN INTERVIEW WITH ROUSHDY PASHA.

The "Ahram" in an account of an interview with Hussein Roushdy Pasha, Prime Minister à propos of his return to power).—On hearing the news of the reconstitution of the new Ministry by Roushdy Pasha we determined to interview His Excellency with the object of hearing his views on the present situation, in spite of our knowledge of the troubles he has experienced and the dangers which present themselves to his mind, and the numerous matters in which he is busily engaged. We asked for a permission to see His Excellency and he was kind enough to answer our request.

"I congratulate Your Excellency" I said after greeting, "on the confidence placed by the nation in you; it has been a pleasure for the community to see you accept the task of reconstituting the Cabinet."

"I am glad that the nation should have confidence in me and I accept congratulation with pleasure on that; but the reorganisation of the Ministry is, I am afraid a toilsome task and requires no congratulation. Had I not been anxious to do my duty towards my homeland I would have declined to undertake it in these difficult circumstances."

"It is stated that the Ministry was formed after the settlement of the position of the British Government in regard to the question that England would supervise the country as a mandatory Power on behalf of the League of Nations."

"This is not true," was the Premier's reply.

"When, then do you expect, Your Excellency, the final decision regarding the fate of Egypt?"

"That I cannot say, for the question is connected with the function of the Peace Conference."

Here noticing that work was accumulating before the Premier, I took leave to go, and he said, as he stood, "I have a wish which I hope will reach the nation, which is this: Thanks to the action of both His Highness the Sultan, and His Excellency General Allenby, the nation's demand of freedom to travel and regarding those had been detained, has been fairly listened to. Wherefore I see no reason now require that every member of this nation should return to his usual work, and devote his time to his affairs. Nothing justifies the holding of further demonstrations and strikes and the only result of such an attitude will beneforth bring about harm to people's interests, and create opportunities for bloody collision without any use at all. The public has to observe that increasing boisterousness on the part of Egyptians might bring forth among others a feeling of a nature to lead up to unsatisfactory results, in spite of all precautionary measures that might be taken by the supreme military authorities to prevent it."

"Is it now practically permitted to leave for abroad?"

"Yes, and the deputation who desire to leave has been helped to get accommodation."

EGYPT'S IDEAL OF HAPPINESS.

The "Abaly." — It appears to us that we shall live to see this country enjoy real happiness. The light that has appeared shows that a bright gleam will come after a short time of waiting. The day of this happiness has dawned, and the Egyptian people understood their position among the peoples of the civilised world. This people shouted in their processions when they were in less pleasant circumstances as it has shouted in these days when it celebrated its rejoicing. Some of the foreign thinking happiness enjoyed by Egyptians is not that sort of happiness connected with the enjoyment of such ordinary comforts of life such as the use of new clothing, new houses and luxurious food, but is that happiness which makes the community feel self-possessed and raise its head and walk among other communities of civilised nations with an air as good as theirs. The days to come will mark the beginning of a new long glorious life for the members of this nation...

ALEXANDRIA PARQUET AGENTS' GOOD ADVICE.

"Wady el-Nil." — The undersigned gentlemen (Ahmed Faik Bey and Suleiman Youssy Bey, Parquet Agents of Alexandria) address the following appeal to the nation: "We sincerely ask all the inhabitants of Alexandria to be tranquil and serene, refraining from the repetition of disgusting demonstrations. They ought to advise one another that every one should return to work on Sunday as the case of Egypt is now in the hands of the wiser members of the nation. We have to help them by adopting a calm attitude, especially that the question has reached the present stage. We do not mean by this to prevent or discourage the leaders of demonstrations, we mean to say that demonstrations like any other thing must be made only when they are needed, and when they are organised by adult people. As for irregular meetings and the attending of the same by people who have no knowledge or the object in view, these are very mischievous. It is the duty of those who love this country to make constant efforts for the prevention of similar events. Long live Egypt."

A TEMPORARY COMMITTEE.

"Wady el-Nil." — We have received the following call: "In accordance with the official decision issued recently permitting free travel for abroad for all, including the members of the "Egyptian Delegation," this temporary committee has the honour to call you to a meeting which will be held at the bureau of Maitre Mohamed Effendi Hasab, lawyer of Alexandria, in the Post Office Street No. 1, on Friday April 11, 1919, at 5 p.m., with the object of discussing the best steps to be taken for offering help to the members of the Delegation and electing a committee for that purpose". We understand that the "Temporary Committee" in question is composed of a number of lawyers and doctors and notables.

RACING NOTES.

(By G.G.)

Following are the other seven in our string of twelve mentioned in our notes:—

GRAYLING. In his first effort, Grayling proved himself worthy of being included in the ranks of the belief that he could not stay six furlongs (pimpkin!) he won quite comfortably over that distance from much useful ones as Araks, Mourad, Sameer, Marco and Buona Vista. In his last effort, Nibla in receipt of two stone seven, was given a neck verdict over him, though many still assert that Grayling won. There were six others behind that day, and there should be no complaints regarding Grayling, at all events so far as I am concerned, for having selected him as one to follow.

MOURAD. This selection has been handicapped in most efforts by lack of jockeyship. In his first effort he could hardly be—as expected to beat Sardanapal, with Ryan up, at a pound, and five weight to Tigrane—he was unplaced in a field of eight. Next he was unplaced to Sameer at two pounds, with Nibla second, getting three pounds from him. He showed a taste of his quality at the third attempt, but just failed by a short head, principally through lack of jockeyship, to give one stone six to that good one, Adam; there was a useful field behind, including Tigrane, Sardanapal, Freyga and Maamoul. A little later he ran unplaced to A.L., Grayling and Sardanapal; my "information" being that he was considered to be outclassed that day. But in his next effort he won in slashing manner from Maamoul and Gaber with six others behind, including Nibla and Satinette. He was a very nice price indeed, thank you. His final effort was to run third to Grayling and Araks: as there were six runners, punters drew over him for a place.

ROCOCO. In his first effort on December 7 he ran unplaced to Krithia in a field of ten. As Krithia was in receipt of over two stone, Rococo was not disgraced. At the second effort he carried the steadier of 9.11 over the mile and a half at Heliopolis, and the race, as many of us have cause to remember, was won from end to end by Sakkara, who, in receipt of one stone nine from Rococo simply galloped down the field of thirteen. He paid a poor price, as the other part of the "Thousand Pounds Worth" Fares—in the same ownership, also ran, and the public were mostly backing the old "war horse," who, by the way, I hear is now none too sound. No "mistake" was made with Rococo the following week at Gezira. Over a mile and three furlongs he won by three lengths from Krithia and Nimr with six others behind, including Cheerful, Maintenon and Samsoun. The third time paid for all! And he would have earned another bracket, too, had the season not have been curtailed, or I am a very bad judge.

SHUKRY. This pony I tipped for races over a distance of ground only, but he surprised more of us by getting third in each of his first two efforts over a mile; first to Fifty and Kantara, and then to Kantara and Ghazi; he paid well for a place on each occasion. He then ran twice unplaced, once in a race which should certainly have been more suited to him. "Round the Course" at Gezira to Kaid, Kreona, and Maroof and afterwards in the big Pony Race at Heliopolis won by Shaalan from fourteen others. As this latter race was of a mile only, I did not consider he had a chance that day. In a field of thirteen he was third at a mile and a furlong to Kaid and Kreona, with six others, unplaced behind Maroof at 1½ miles in a field of five, confirmed my growing opinion that he had been deteriorating all the season, and he now no longer holds a corner in my heart—so you had better watch him for the Club Stakes!

SHAALAN. This pony, like Assad Kerim, was the fourth year wheel—selected him, yet one of his performances was to win the Omnium (from fourteen others) by two and a half lengths with eight seven up! On this occasion "system"! But to start at the beginning. At the first meeting of the season, carrying nine stone, Shaalan won by a head from Kaid and Mushah in a field of eight including Halabi (receiving six) Marcel and Bashra—truly a good send off. A fortnight later, over a mile he was third to Daddy, conceding him no less than fifteen pounds, with Kaid running second; five useful ponies were behind him. On November 16 he was second to Kaid, although he did not win, he put up an extraordinarily good performance in getting within a short head and a neck of Adam who was receiving no less than two stone eight and Mourad, the second horse, received sixteen pounds. In his last effort, he was unplaced to Aurelius K.I., and Plaisanterie, as one would expect him to be over nine furlongs. I placed them on that occasion; all the same, Tigrane was not disgraced.

Well, I think you'll admit that it's proved a jolly odd dozen, and far too cheap for P.T. 2. Yet the dozen for Alexandria will cost you even less: that is, provided you purchase our code for the dozen will be presented to code subscribers. Those who possess codes should supply their addresses so that they may be advised of the revisions and additions which have been made for the forthcoming Alexandria season—no extra charge!

G.S.C. v. I.S.I.

Following their narrow win in the first important match of the season, against the Australian I.F. eleven, (as reported in yesterday's "Gazette") the G.S.C. players were one better on Saturday by easily defeating the eleven from the Imperial School of Instruction, Zeitoun, at Gheirieh.

Again, Booth, for the winners, was the outstanding player in the contest. He achieved a remarkable record, making the biggest score in the match, carrying his bat, unbeaten; and also easily topping the bowling with an average with the fine record of 5 for 22 to his credit.

Following are the scores and bowling:-

FOOTBALL.

CAIRO MILITARY LEAGUE.

Recent announcements in the "Egyptian Gazette" have indicated the uncertain position of the competition for the League Championship; and our readers will have been prepared for surprising developments (owing to military exigencies).

The "Red Rose" have beaten the School of Instruction by 1—0.

Cairo Signals beat the Machine Gun Corps by 4—0.

As to the first named result, the School of Instruction are appealing against the decision on the ground that the "Red Rose" team included players who were not genuine members of the team.

As to the other, it is only necessary to remark that the "Gunners" eleven included only five of their original team (Grant); whereas the "Signals" were altogether more fortunate, all their best players being available (except Bew). No wonder, therefore, they beat the Gunners, on Saturday by 4—0 (at Abbassia).

The event was devoid of usual interest through the "G.R.O." C.B. which kept hundreds, even thousands of followers of the sport "at home," who otherwise would have been present.

THE SULTAN'S CUP.

SEMI-FINAL

I.B.D. (Kantara) v. SCHOOL OF INST.

Confronted with many difficulties the Anglo-Egyptian Association Committee have eventually arranged for the above semi-final event to take placed at the Command Depot, Abbassia, to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon.

The I.B.D. eleven have an unequalled record in this country, yet the Zeitoun men (so the present writer is informed by their captain) will meet them undaunted. As there are some excellent players in the Zeitoun eleven a good game is assured.
