GREECE AND DARDANELLES.

OFFER THAT WAS REJECTED.

OFFER THAT WAS RESPECTED.

Mr. Winston Churchill, speaking in London, on June 28, at a dinner given to the property of the property of the war, said that the armies of Greece were placed at the disposal of the Allies by M. Venizelos, but in our desire to limit the area of the condict we released the offer, when the British Fleet had destroyed the outer tot of the Darlandler and when the collapse of the Turkish resistance semi-defined the seminary of the total property. Whose fault was that? It was the proper most the Greek army and the Greek feet uight have played a vital part in the attack at Gallejol, and it so the war might have been over in 1915.
