THE NATIVE PRESS.

WHEAT DISTRIBUTION FATALITY.

The "Akhbar" (from an article commenting on the unfortunate incident which occurred recently at Rod el Farag, in Cairo):— Misfortunes of the war have prevailed among all—men and women, old and young. Have a look at the thousands of women who assemble at Rod el Farag and Abbas el Nebi in order to get wheat and flour and you will have an idea of the cosopession of Egyptian women with men in conducting home affairs. The Egyptian woman of the lower class does a lot of work, and the present war has added much to her heavy burden since she began to go to the Nile wharves with her sack or basket on her head, and her infant in her arms, in order to buy grain. She exposes herself to the insolence of the tram ticket-collector, the unkind treatment of policemen, and the troublesome attitude of wheat sellers, to say nothing about the heat of the burning sun in summer and the rainy weather in winter. She tolerates all this, and yet we are that there are some critics who accuse the Egyptian woman of being unable to get a kella of dura for her house. "Wataan! even assume that all the most of the women who go to the wharves are traders, and they only carry wheat to the city to get profit. Suppose that is true, why should women traders who work the whole day to get a few piastres each, be exposed to death at the wharves? According to the official report explaining the disaster, "Barakat Bey did not ask the Police to send the necessary force to keep order at the market, for he understood that there would be no distribution of wheat. The Shubra Police Station did not ask the Governorate for such a force for it had no knowledge of what was intended to be done at the wharf on that day. But both Barakat Bey and the Mamour of the Wharf and the Police officer there saw about 5000 women crowding up, and they must have foreseen the danger before it occurred, but they did nothing to ward off the evil, and the incident which followed was of such a nature as would make the act an offence punishable according to Art. 202 of the Criminal Code. Barakat Bey is a rich merchant and has grown richer owing to the war, but he does not know how to manage the distribution of grain among 5000 women, so the disaster occurred as a result of his mismanagement. The people who lost their lives under the feet of the mob were all of the poorer class, but poverty does not prevent claiming for indemnity, the poor being more entitled to indemnity than others. We consequently ask the Parquet impatiently to give a detailed account of the incident including the persons who had ordered the women to enter the shoons of the Bank of Rome. We also propose that special measures ought to be taken for the prevention of the occurrence of a similar misfortune in future.

BEYROUT 8000 PAUPERS.

The "Ahram". — According to the latest news from Syria, the orphans who have lost all at Beyrout are about 2000 in number, and the poor who cannot earn their bread 6000. These miserable people 8000 in number can find neither food nor shelter and unless they receive immediate support from charitable people they will be in a hopeless position. As for the situation in Mount Lebanon, according to the latest news is is appalling. The richest people are beatless and the survivers include no lo bourers and servants, for the poorest people have all died. Communication among villages has been interrupted owing to the loss of animals. According to other reports grain has begun to be sent to the Lebanon from the Haurun and Damascus and a large quantity of it has been distributed among the poor without payment. Further consignments are expected to arrive shortly.

A LETTER FROM BEYROUT.

The "Akhbar." — We reproduce the following paragraphs from a private letter recently received by a well known merchant from a cousin of his in Beyrout: "I can now give you favourable news about impends in spite of grave difficulties I have experienced, as a result of fears, poor business, and want of money, which forced me to sell all that I possessed even my clothes. Do not be surprised at this, for I have only followed the example of many others, including well-known merchants. But now the situation is quite different and we hope that we will be able to do good work, though we do not think that business will be as prosperous under these circumstances, as it was in the old days. The general rise in prices is still prevailing, but the situation is expected to improve. Anyway, we are no more afraid of famine. The Railway Administration has been transferred from Jaffa and thence to Damascus. We have lost many friends, and those who have succumbed to diseases and starvation are more than 30 per cent, especially in the Lebanon. We have sustained a heavy loss as a result of the pressure laid upon our trade by the late government.

GRAIN FOR SYRIA.

The "Mokattam" (from its representative at Alexandria). — The Military authorities have delegated some gentlemen to purchase big quantities of seeds of grain and vegetables for the countries of Syria and Palestine occupied by British forces. These delegates have already purchased in the last two days some considerable quantities of the seeds required, to the value of about L.E.4,000. The same will be consigned shortly to Syria for that good purpose. May Allah bless those officers — supporters of justice and freedom, who bring prosperity and civilisation to every land they reach.

COTTON RATES.

The "Ahram." — The Dakahlieh Provincial Council met on Thursday last and decided according to a proposal made by Abdalla Bey Sherif, representative of the Markaz of Mit Ghamr, to ask the Government to advise the Cotton Control Commission to modify the prices fixed for different varieties of cotton, by raising the rates to the degree that conforms with the value of cotton including the additional costs of cultivation, labour, transport, picking, and the rise in the price of sacks, which have increased considerably since the fixing of the prices of cotton by the authorities. The Council approved a proposal to ask the Government to consider a statement made by cotton merchants to the effect that the Cotton Control Commission does not classify the varieties of cotton they present to it, rightly and properly, for it has been said to be true, is detrimental to the interest of the cotton grower.

AN APPRECIATION.

(To the Editor, "Egyptian Gazette.")

Sir, — May I, through your paper, congratulate Mr. Wolseley Charles for providing the kind of entertainment that we English Tommies have so long looked for in vain. I had the pleasure of visiting the Royal Opera Hall on Monday last and had the most enjoyable evening I have spent in Egypt. "Fun in a Music Hall"—created Fred Karno and we enjoyed every of laughter.

Yours, &c.,
A Sergeant.

THE CENSUS.

FIGURES FOR DAKAHLIEH PROVINCE.

The Statistical Department has just issued the census results for the Dakahlieh Province. The general total is 936,643, of whom 960,703 were Moslems and 21,958 Orthodox. Of the 183,379 persons married 5,964 persons declared to have two wives, 213, three wives, and 21 the maximum number (4) of legitimate wives.

Of the nationalities the Greeks numbered 1,644, and next came the Ottomans, 461; Italians, 428, French, 332; British, 291, Austrians, 17, and Germans, 4. The population of the town of Mansura is 49,236. For the whole province there are 498,575 females and 488,068 males. Of these 363,274 males and 419,765 females are illiterate. These figures do not include 147,451 children below 5 years, who are not taken into account in regard to the statistics of literacy.

A SORDID TALE.

A few days ago, the Tanta Assizes inflicted capital punishment upon a native of Beltag named Mohamed Ibrahim, the punishment of penal service for life upon Ibrahim's sister, Higazieh Ibrahim by name, for having murdered a man named Khalil Ibrahim Ahahum, by first stoning and then strangling him.

The details of the case show that the victim was the husband of Hegazieh but left her four years ago with boys and girls to support. She was afraid that he might marry another and her sons (if he happened to have any) would take a share in his property, so she committed this crime.

Mr. Walker Russell, until recently connected with the Great Western Railway, England, arrived at Sydney on July 9 to take up the position of assistant chief mechanical engineer on the New South Wales railways, at a salary of £1,000 a year.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS.

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.

II.

We are dead, short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved, and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

III.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you, from falling hands we throw
The torch. Be yours to hold it high!
If you break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.
