WORLD GROWING WARMER.

MERICAN SCIENTIST'S THEORY.

AMERICAN SCIENTIST'S THEORY.

An American scientist has stated that, the world is growing warmer. His reasons for his conviction are marginaries as the state of the following harmonic state of the sta

1. That the dasppearance of the lee Age is an active present process. 2. That the rates and lines of retreat are and have been determined by exposure to solar energy and the temperatures estab-lished thereby, and by the difference in the specific heat of the land and water he specific heat of the land and water emispheres.

3. This retreat marks a rise in mean sur-ace temperature along these new lines, nanifestly due to recently inaugurated xposure to solar radiation and also the hanguration of the trapping of heat de-ived from such exposure, which process a cumulative and has a maximum not et reached:

yet reached.

The prediction is then ventured that the same energies which recently converted the glacial best of Canada into productive grain fields will "in time" make of the tundras of to-day granaries of the future. For the present, though, it will be as well to get on with our allotments.
