EGYPT'S HEALTH.

BENEFITS UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

The report of the Commission on Public Health now atting will, we understant the problem of the problem in Egypt. The question that will then present itself will be: How far will the authorities go in carrying out the recommendations of the members who, judging from the names composing the Commission, will be thorough and radical in their summing up.

Egypt has undoubtedly benefited from the sanitary point of view from the presence of a large army in the country. As it is a series of a large army in the country, as to a series of a large army in the country as to a series of a large and the country has undoubtedly been spared any great acourge in the way of the first of course no thanks whatever are due to the Municipality in initiating the work, and the second is the result of the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of the second is the result of the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the result of the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the result of the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the splendid camp sanitary system in vogwer of a second so the splendid camp sanitary system is second so the splendid camp sanitary system in the splendid camp sanitary system is second so the splendid camp sanitary in the splendid camp sanitary in the splendid camp sanitary should be splendid so the splendid compared to the splendid camp sanitary in the splendid camp sanitary should be splendid camp sanitary in the splendid camp sanitary should be splendid s coordination under a Ministry of Heelth imperative.

No one knows when the Capitulations will be done away with, but when the well-being of a whole nation is at radies some echemic could make a crist at present would be put an end to and full powers be giren to a Public Health Ministry. Next to private interests the interests of Government Departments and the susceptibilities of various official dignities are perhaps the hardest things to overcome, and when defailing with remedies for the present situation will not be less drastic in carrying out recommendations submitted to them through being confronted with difficulties which intrigues and self-interest are sure to put in their way.
