CURIOUS LEGAL CUSTOMS.

(BY JOSEPH (DYROD).

The deply lamented young scholar, M. Jean Margeo, in one of the early volumes of his catalogue of Greek paper, of the Byantine Epoch, in the Cairo Museum, published as No.67997, a short massueript which, however, illustrated a well known ancient Greek custom termed in antiquity and the control of th parties.

This proceeding was current among the Hellenic peoples in very early times being mentioned in the code of extremely ancient laws found inscribed upon stone at Gortyna, in Crele. It is also mentioned by Flate and now the papty prove it was the contract of the code of the c by Plate and now the papy; prove it was still recognised as late as the reign of Diocletian.
